Gifts and Entertainment are commonly used in building and reinforcing business relationships. However, these are legitimate tools only if they are in accordance with the following criteria:

- reasonable, occasional and with a modest value,
- recorded in the books and records in an accurate and transparent manner,
- in accordance with accepted business practices (no intentions of Bribes³, payoffs or kickbacks),
- consistent with applicable legislation.

Any Gift or Entertainment should be provided or accepted in goodwill. The intentions, implications and impacts of it should be carefully evaluated. In this respect, employees should make sure that providing or accepting the particular Gift or Entertainment:

- does not influence decision-making of TürkTraktör or other parties and does not lead others to perceive such an influence.
- does not detriment TürkTraktör if it becomes public knowledge.
- does not lead any conflict of interest.

All Gifts and Entertainment activities must be in accordance with the principles given above as well as the limits and detailed procedures given throughout this Policy.

Gift or Entertainment activities (including descriptions, approval processes) must be documented properly and the related transaction must be accurately and transparently recorded to the books and records.

Employees should request guidance from the Compliance and Competition Department in a case of doubt as to the appropriateness of offering or accepting a gift or entertainment.

³ Please refer to TürkTraktör Anti Bribery and Corruption Policy for details.

TürkTraktör sets the value limit for offering/providing Gifts to/from a single source⁴ to USD 100 or equivalent annually. Irrespective of the monetary limit, Gifts which may negatively impact fair and unbiased judgment or contrary to commonly accepted business practices must be avoided.

While offering or accepting a Gift, in case of any doubt, as to whether a Gift is considered customary and in line with business practices and this Policy, arising out of the circumstances, such as the frequency of events, nature of the Gift or any other reason, employees shall consult to the Compliance and Competition Department.

It is appropriate for employees to give/accept unvalued Gifts/presents in the framework of their business operations. These may consist of Gifts such as calendars, key holders or other promotional material preferably bearing the company logo. Gifts which are personal or could be perceived as personal must be avoided. Example for this would be an engraved watch or a pen with initials of the recipient.

Employees may only accept a Gift within the limits and in line with the general principles set forth in this Policy. When incompliant Gifts are offered to employees, they must politely decline by returning the Gift with a note or e-mail, referring to this Policy.

4.2. Entertainment

Business meals and events are common practices in business life. - The event cannot be excessive (the value or nature of the event is not proportionate with the business relationship) or take place at inappropriate venues.
- The Entertainment activity cannot lead negative impact on fair and unbiased judgment or cause others to perceive it as such.

Meals and other Entertainment events which are in line with the above-mentioned criteria may be appropriate for attendance.

The documentation for meals and Entertainment activities must include full details describing the attending parties and the associated business relationship (business reason) as well as a description of the event and supporting documentation. The related expenses must be accurately and transparently recorded in the books and records, in the relevant expense account associated with the business relationship.
